Medication errors account for 8% of the adverse events reported.

Students seeking exceptions to any additional residence requirements of a school or college must petition the dean or director of the appropriate program from which they will earn their degree.

This is also referred to as impotence.